Address of the Grand Orator

Grand Master Pervier presented Walter J. Klein, author of He Ain't Heavy, He's My Brother Zeb. Klein stepped in to replace Grand Orator Senator Marc Basnight, who was unable to attend.

Heroes

Masonry is where you find heroes, past, present, future. Hundreds of great world leaders. All through history. George Washington. Your own coach who walked you through your catechism. Heroes all.

Our son Richard is past master of Excelsior 261. After three girls, his wife presented him with a son. He wanted to name him Vance in honor of the man in history he admired most.

Neither he nor I ever heard Zeb Vance was a Mason. Not until Jody Howard called me. The teenage son of an Asheville past master, Jody was writing a high school thesis about three unusual Charlotte men: a Presbyterian minister, a Jewish merchant, and a mountain lawyer. Jody had read my articles in his father's Scottish Rite Journal. He saw me as a possible resource. After all, I was a Mason, an historian, Jewish, Confederate, and an alumnus of UNC Chapel Hill. Through his Dad and his inquisitive ways, Jody had discovered Zeb Vance to have been a Mason. He shared his proof with me — smoking gun documents from Mount Hermon 118 and articles from the Asheville Citizen about Vance's burial with 120 Masons attending.

Jody was not yet a Mason but, like Zeb Vance, he was driven to become one. He and I associated for many pleasant months on his thesis and on an article we did for the Scottish Rite Journal. We were sixty years apart in age—still are—but only inches apart in our passion for this wonderful subject. We've met only once. He's a seminary student in Suwanee, Tennessee, and I'm—I'm right here to tell you some wild and wondrous things about Zeb Vance as a Mason.

Zeb was a genius who hid his brilliance behind jokes and plain speaking. He mastered 500 classic books passed on to him from his uncle, a young doctor killed in a duel. Zeb knew his Latin and named Excelsior Lodge when he organized it in 1867. But, he didn't care for anyone to know what a scholar he was until he was in court. There, he slaughtered the opposition.

His profession was law. He borrowed tuition from UNC President David Swain, a leading Mason, and spent one sensational year at Chapel Hill for his complete college law education.

His mother and father both came from eminent civic and Masonic families. Famed leaders visited his home when he was still a child. He stunned them with his wit and wisdom. When he was 12 years old, he told a friend he knew in his heart he would become governor of North Carolina. He did just that three times—and was then elected US Senator four times.

What about his Masonry? Well, get ready. When he was 23, he petitioned Mount Hermon 118 in Asheville. Within five months, he was a Master Mason serving as junior deacon pro tem. Six months later he raised his brother Bob Vance and was representing his lodge before the Grand Lodge. By 1855 he affiliated with York Rite Royal Arch Chapter 25. Lodge records show that for four years he was absent from meetings "only a few times." In 1856 he was junior deacon revising the bylaws. That same year he made a speech at the Republican National convention in Salisbury that led US Senator George Badger to shout that Vance was the “greatest stump speaker there ever was!”

The year 1858 saw Zeb as senior deacon of Mount Hermon, the highest Masonic office he ever held. Meanwhile, his brother Bob was on his way to becoming NC Grand Master of Masons.

Zeb remained active and committed to the fraternity as he rose to become governor, Confederate colonel, and US senator. He was asked to represent major and minor interests of various NC lodges in state and national governing bodies. He championed appropriations for Oxford Home and repayment of Civil War damages to St. John's Lodge 3 in New Bern.

Perhaps the climax of Zeb's Masonic career came August 3, 1881, when he was guest speaker at the unveiling of a monument to Governor Richard Caswell in Kinston. Zeb was there as a Mason to honor another Mason, and the whole world knew it. How many people came to little Kinston to see and hear him? Twelve thousand! That was an important portion of the state's population in 1881.

How did it happen that Zeb Vance's Masonry was lost in time? For one thing, not one of his many biographers was a Mason. All of them skipped over his fraternal affiliation when they researched their books. In time, Vance schools, Vance streets, and Vance buildings were torn down and replaced.

But, when he was living, Vance was magic. They say his portraits hung in every home in North Carolina. When he attended lodge, crowds of Masons packed the hall. When he stood to speak, he made history. When he was in court in Charlotte, all businesses closed so the population could witness Zeb in action. Hundreds of watermelons were consumed in the Charlotte courthouse when Zeb tried a case.

Here is a direct quote from “Tar Heels Track the Century” by Pocahontas Wight Edmunds that will illustrate Vance's power when he spoke. “When the US Senate was considering an appropriation for his own French Broad River, the stream of his boyhood, which rises near the South Carolina border and meanders northward and westward, cleaving through high mountains on either side and bounding over boulders, Zeb became annoyed at Yankee criticism. The obstacle to the dredging appropriation was a senator from Rhode Island, who made the mistake of belittling the beautiful French Broad, the pride of every western North Carolinian. It was a small stream indeed alongside such navigable rivers as the Hudson and the Delaware, but scarcely the trickle the New Englander claimed when he said he could stand on one bank and spit halfway across it. Vance in truth had not favored the appropriation, or others of the pork barrel type. It had been introduced in the US House by his own brother Bob, a congressman representing the western North Carolina district. But, Zeb was unwilling to have his beloved French Broad degraded by anyone and went to its defense. He rose half in drollery, but with a touch of irritation, to take advantage of the opening.

“The gentleman who makes that remark about the French Broad comes from the puny state of Rhode Island. Why I could stand on one border of Rhode Island and pee halfway across the state.” The gavel raps loudly.

“Order! Order!” shouted the presiding officer. “The gentleman from North Carolina is out of order!”

"Yes," Vance blandly continued, "and if I wasn't out of order, I could pee clear across his whole damned state!" You may notice in my book that the word Zeb used was not precisely pee.

When I told that story several nights ago to about sixty brethren in lodge, I started rapping my trusty gavel and when I reached the third rap, everyone stood up!

OK, now let's roll up our sleeves and look at Brother Zeb at his worst.

An old definition says that a statesmen is simply a dead politician. Zeb was surely the ultimate politician in his time; his advocates and detractors agreed on that. Zeb's chosen profession was law. He loved law and respected it. But it's no secret that it's a struggle to make a living as a lawyer. It was true then as now. Vance was never wealthy; never wanted to be. But holding public office offered him power and influence, and that suited him just fine.

He held his first public office in Asheville when he was only 20. He never quit the political life. Opportunities to cash in were everywhere but Zeb would not touch them. He was scrupulously honest, and everyone knew it.

Was he ambitious? For political office, absolutely. For high Masonic office? Never. For titles and praise in the church? Never. For improperly favoring his family? Not for a moment. He loved to win, but never gambled. He would not take a position against liquor, saying his conscience was dry but his stomach wet. Yet, there is not one story about him ever drinking to excess.

Was he unfaithful? Never. He adored his Hattie in a long and happy marriage with five sons. After her death, Zeb was devoted to his second wife Florence.

Did he dirty the linen of political parties? Hardly. In his time he was Republican, Democrat, Whig, you name it. He didn't follow parties, they followed him. And speaking of leadership, he kept ahead of the people of North Carolina throughout his 64 years.

Did he like being the center of attention? Bet on that. At lodge meetings he liked to smile with the brethren when the words were said, "Advance and communicate it." He liked being introduced, mainly because that opened doors to funny stories. Here's an authentic favorite.

Some US senators, their wives and other ladies went on an outing in Chesapeake Bay. They had to climb the ladder to board the vessel. Zeb happened to glance up just as the lady ahead of him looked down and saw that he had a view beneath her skirts.

"Senator," she admonished, "I can see that you are no gentleman."

Zeb shot back, "I beg your pardon, madam, but I see that you aren't, either."

Well, where are the black marks against Zebulon Baird Vance?

Black, indeed.

His relations with the black race were worse than his spelling. He was determined to connect his beloved mountains by railroad and finally did it, but only at the expense of many black men. He ordered prisoners by the hundreds to build that railroad. Hundreds died or lived in utter misery. His remarks about black people in the state legislature were nothing short of disgusting. He told jokes about black people freely. It was known that he had been hand picked as Jefferson Davis' successor as president of the Confederate States of America. So you know where he stood on slavery. He shamelessly gerrymandered blacks out of their voting power by creating a new county called Vance, which his critics called his "black baby."

And yet... and yet...

Vance fought for and got a normal school for black teachers so North Carolina blacks could have educational opportunities, even to insisting that the head of that teachers college be black. He welcomed invitations to talk to black audiences and charged them with taking up leadership responsibilities and seeking ways to distinguish their race.

And when Zeb's dead body was transported from Washington to Asheville, countless blacks assembled along the railroad tracks to sing spirituals and pray for the soul of their dead friend. I guess the black people of the time thought Zeb Vance was not only the best thing they had going for them, but a decent human being who was, underneath it all, their friend.

Did you know Zeb Vance was buried three times, and not one time with Masonic rites? His second wife refused to allow the Masonic team to perform the rites they had rehearsed at Mount Hermon 118. Later she secretly had her husband exhumed and reburied in her Martin family plot nearby at Riverside Cemetery. When Zeb's sons found out, they took their stepmother to court, got a judgment, had their Dad dug up again and reburied him where he started out. I figure Zeb is still exploding with laughter at the thought that even in death he was a traveling man.

In the new book, Brother Zeb, you will discover much more adventure and many surprises, such as the several duels fought by famous North Carolina Masons... what happened to Zeb's five sons... the identity of Vance's seven heroes... the brother Mason who became Zeb's enemy who died in disgrace... how Zeb's mother and UNC President David Swain were once sweethearts...

After you have read it, you will surely understand the complete human being named Zeb Vance. You will finally appreciate how he used his sense of humor to lead his people. You will see how he nobly championed North Carolina through its worst history—tremendous numbers of war dead and injured, poverty beyond belief, hopelessness, ruin. You will, in the end, ask yourself what kind of man would tell jokes to a divided America that had suffered almost 800 thousand war casualties. How could Zebulon Baird Vance make a career of leading a poor agricultural state in the hardest of times and feed his hungry people funny stories?

You will find the answer within the very people he served. They dearly loved this man who could help them smile through their tears.

I must end now. But, the memory of Zeb Vance should not, must not end. The most popular and beloved man and Mason in North Carolina history must not be forgotten. Let us honor him by naming that new road Vance road, this new school Vance school, that new lodge Vance lodge. Put his portrait back on the walls of public buildings. Ask teachers to challenge their students to write Zeb Vance biographies. Retell his great stories. Keep naming babies for him. We are literally obligated to keep this great Mason alive! After all, you and I are his surviving brethren!

Walter J. Klein (Excelsior 261)

Report of the Committee on Permanent Building

The following Report of the Committee on Permanent Building was received and entered on the record.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

The cornerstone of the Grand Lodge office building was laid fifty years ago on December 15, 1955. Subsequently, the building was occupied early in 1957. Over the years, maintenance issues have been addressed. Overall, the building is in excellent condition.

The building HVAC equipment is original. For fifty years, this equipment has serviced the building adequately. It is now becoming a liability. In order to provide for the building for the next fifty years, we have secured the services of Bass, Kennedy and Nixon, consulting engineers. Brother Al Bass recently walked through the building to review the present equipment. He reviewed our current problems with the system and suggested that we consider completely replacing the system with five individual units. He suggested that we use heat pumps to operate the building down to forty degrees outside temperature. He would continue to use gas-fired hot water for lower temperatures. He stated his firm would design the system, set the criteria for bids to contractors, and supervise the installation. The committee is in agreement that it is time that we start this project.

Around 1974, the rear glass wall of our building was replaced with wall-board and stucco. The rear deck was removed. We have been reviewing early minutes of the Board of General Purposes from that period, but have found no indication of why this revision was undertaken.

The committee is considering the prospects of bringing the building back to its original design — a beauty that once had it listed on the top architectural examples in the state's capital city. From pictures, we see that before the back glass was removed, someone climbing the steps of Grand Lodge would be greeted by a panoramic view of our magnolia covered back property. We now have a dark, rather dank, windowless large lobby. Recent efforts to brighten the room and bring our famous Allyn Cox murals back to life have improved the situation. An old shag carpet was removed to reveal the original tessellated terrazzo floors of the room. That has been accentuated with oriental area rugs. Nothing, though, will bring back its original beauty but replacing the glass of the back wall.

We are hoping that we can replace the rear wall with energy efficient glass. This would enhance the efficiency of our building and preserve our historic legacy. In order to undertake this project, we are looking into various fund raising projects to offset the cost.

While considering the back windows, we are also reviewing the energy efficient replacement the other glass in the building. This would be done as a multi-year project as money is made available. We feel that the project would generate energy savings as well as extend the life of the building.

Respectfully submitted,
Kevin Walton, Chairman

Report of the Committee on Fraternal Correspondence

The following Report of the Committee on Fraternal Correspondence was received and entered on the record. Grand Lodge action on the requests was taken later in the session.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

During the past year, formal requests for recognition have been received from four grand lodges. This Grand Lodge subscribes to the services of the Commission on Information for Recognition of the Conference of Grand Masters in North America to gather information and investigate whether the grand lodge in question satisfies the conditions of regularity. The Commission's guidelines or Standards for Recognition are as follows:

- Legitimacy of Origin
- Exclusive Territorial Jurisdiction, except by mutual consent and/or treaty
- Adherence to the Ancient Landmarks – specifically, a belief in God, the Volume of Sacred Law as an indispensable part of the furniture of the lodge, and the prohibition of the discussion of politics and religion

The Commission on Recognition of the Conference of Grand Masters embarked on an extensive study to understand the situation and relationships with the Mexican grand lodges. It is estimated there are 130 grand lodges in Mexico. Of these, there appear to be only 30 state grand lodges and the York Grand Lodge that are considered to be practicing regular Masonry. These grand lodges are members of the confederation of Regular Grand Lodges of the Mexican United States. The grand lodges that are members of this confederation all have adopted a protocol for membership. All member grand lodges meet the standards adopted by the Conference of Grand Masters of North America.

Gran Logia Occidental Mexicana

We have received a request for recognition from the Grand Lodge of Occidental Mexicana of the United Confederated State Grand Lodges of Mexico in the State of Jalisco, Mexico. It is the recommendation of this committee to approve recognition of this grand lodge.

The delegates approved the recognition.

Report of the Administrator

Masonic and Eastern Star Home of North Carolina, Inc.

The following Report of the Administrator Masonic and Eastern Star Home of North Carolina was received and entered on the record.

Brethren of the Grand Lodge:

This report is the first of my second decade with the Masonic and Eastern Star Home [MESH]. So as not to repeat myself, I would refer the reader to this same report for last year, which concentrated on the prior decade.

The MESH Vision for the Decade
To Grow Our Way Out Of A Deficit

MESH has always cared for more people than it could afford. This is not a business failure; it is the mark of an excellent charity. Growth on a small portfolio, foundation gifts, and annual giving from fraternal members have historically made up the difference. Some eras, such as the Great Depression and the war years, were more difficult than others.

The days of “one room and a path” need to be a thing of the past. Our administrative assistant was sure, when checking after me, that the term “path” is a typo. What we mean to say is that people, rather than a path to the bathroom, need privacy in the modern era.

Following studies and research reported in last year’s report, the Board of Directors has taken a bold new step toward the future. The last segment of a lofty vision may soon become reality. The studies and research are convincing that we can replace the older buildings with new state-of-the-space buildings, to include private bathrooms and showers. The business model is similar to the plan for our Independent Living Village Program, although with a financing component.

In sum, MESH paid $900,000 to complete planning and the infrastructure for a new village of 44 new two-bedroom houses. This village is valued at more than $6.5 million. New revenues come to the table when future residents apply and are approved. This was done without a capital campaign. Because it is efficient to use vacant property as a revenue stream, we have actually improved the services offered to those residents who require financial subsidy.

We believe MESH can increase the length of its cabletow and be prepared to serve those yet to come. It appears that MESH can finance the cost of the expansion and pay both the debt service and principle over a 30-year period through entrance and monthly maintenance fees.

Even if the cabletow cannot be expanded, at the very minimum, current residents will move from single rooms with shared bathing to studios, suites, and apartments with private baths. All residents will have central dining and activity areas that are conducive to people who are living longer than ever before in our history.

The paradigm shifts from, "Someday I may have to live in a place like that" to "Someday, I want to live in a place like that."

However, MESH can only operate within the length of its cabletow. The average Mason in 2004 contributed $7.62. Brethren, it takes an average of $25 to pay the bills. MESH needs the immediate intervention of the craft, rather than suspend admissions until the census can be served within limited resources.

Fraternal gifts declined nearly 30 percent over the previous year, and MESH was forced to reduce its operating budget. This was accomplished by, again, withholding wage increases for all staff, reducing personnel, modifying the nurse/patient ratio, and increased certification of Medicaid beds.

In sum, MESH can only operate within the length of the cabletow given us by the craft. Is $25 within the length of your cabletow?

The Grand Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star

It is with profound disbelief and sorrow that I must advise you of the death of Donna Morgan, grand secretary of the Grand Chapter of North Carolina, Order of the Eastern Star. While traveling home from Greenville, and after the close of the Grand Chapter, she perished in a traffic accident.

Sister Donna Morgan was a true friend, a dedicated member of the Order, and most committed to our Home as the primary charity of the Eastern Star in North Carolina. Donna was a most professional grand secretary, who, in that capacity, made people happy with her infectious spirit and bubbly demeanor.

I have no idea why God has called Donna Home. At the same time, my brothers, I know there is a master plan and that we are not wise enough to understand its complexities and intricacies. Yet, we know that God says there is a time for all seasons.

The Masonic and Eastern Star Home has lost an advocate, a friend, and a sister. Our Home will not forget this special lady.

The Depth of Our Service

MESH is more than just a retirement community; it is, in large measure, a tangible part of our obligation. At year-end 2004, we were serving 264 residents. These people are more than numbers, but a measurable part of our commitment to aid and assist our distressed brethren and their wives, mothers, sisters, daughters, and widows.

Summary

The Bible tells us that, "Where there is no vision the people perish."

In the last decade, the MESH Board of Directors has led MESH into a vision that has been largely implemented. It has been quite an adventure; a rough and rugged road beset with trials, hardships, joy, and accomplishments.

MESH needs the immediate intervention of our members during this difficult time in American history. The Board of Directors does not want to restrict our charitable services; yet, we must protect the minimal reserves for our current residents who are subsidized.

Conclusion

It has been a pleasure traveling and attending area meetings with the chairman of the MESH Board of Directors, our Grand Master Graham Pervier.

Brother Pervier brought a simple message: Masonry is not as bad off as some might think. Look at the history of our craft, review its growth and change, compare it with significant social and political events and demographics, and one gets a more accurate picture.

Pervier has been a leader with realistic expectations. He, being a professional manager, knows how to provide oversight while assuring himself that the work is being done properly. On Brother Pervier's watch, there were many programs completed, improved, and modified. He capitalized on the work in progress and held the ship on course toward the future.

I wish to thank our fraternal members. If I could paint a picture, it would be of an old person's face. Radiating through that face would be the bright and excited eyes of a child. Those who know and love this retirement community, dedicated to relief, are the rare people who understand that we are all children of God, just some older than others.

I wish to thank the employees and, particularly, the managers at MESH. Every employee must not only excel in their profession, they must have the capacity to love people, particularly the elderly. This is what separates MESH from many other congregate care institutions. I especially want to express my appreciation to Kay Ellison, our administrative assistant. Her tenacity, professionalism, patience, and a desire for MESH to be all it can and should be has been sincerely appreciated. She, too, has been an advocate and champion for residents of MESH.

Under the leadership of our management team, every employee is an advocate and champion for the rights and lives of our residents. The paradigm for the employees of this Home is, "I work in your Home. You do not live in my institution."

Our managers are: Dianne Armstrong, assistant administrator; Peggy Shoffner, director of Nursing; Rouena Newman, director of Dietary Services; Michael Midkiff and Chris Staley, director and assistant director of Environmental Services; Bettie Lea V. Knight, director of Social and Outreach Services; Deborah Idol, director of Business Services; Tracy Armwood, human resource and payroll coordinator; and Gina Weeks, director of activities.

Lastly, I would like to thank every resident at MESH. These are the bravest people in the world. Like the distance runner, we all slow down at the end of the race. Like the runner at the end of the race, our residents are still giving 100 percent — pursuing goals, having hope, looking for ways to contribute, and dreaming.

Fraternally and respectfully submitted,
John A. Rose, Administrator/CEO

Report of the Board of Directors of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home of North Carolina, Inc.

The following Report of the Board of Directors of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home was received and entered on the record.

To The Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

Governance

During this Masonic year, the Board of Directors convened their regular quarterly meetings in February, May, and August and is scheduled to meet in November 2005.

The Board of Directors is comprised of 20 qualified members of whom twelve are Masons and eight are members of the Order of the Eastern Star. The grand master serves as chairman. The deputy grand master and senior grand warden are members by virtue of their positions. The other Masonic members are nominated, or in the event of a vacancy, appointed by the grand master and elected by the voting members of Grand Lodge at the Annual Communication. The junior grand warden serves as an observer, which helps him prepare for his ensuing term.

The Board of Directors receives regular reports from the administrator that relate to the general operations of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home [MESH].

The many important responsibilities of the Board are directed through committees and, when necessary, ad hoc committees. Standing committees are instrumental in maintaining efficient and effective operations of your Masonic Home. These committees include Admission, Personnel, Finance, Buildings and Grounds, Real Estate, Long-Range Planning, and Investment.

At this time, there are three ad hoc committees working to the benefit of MESH. The Construction Committee, chaired by Wayne Jackson, continues its important work of directing and overseeing the current Independent Living expansion project. The Steering Committee is charged to review, identify advantages and disadvantages, regarding a conceptual organizational model approved at a special-called meeting in March of 2003. The third ad hoc committee is studying ways to strengthen the governing board, selection of Board members, modify the requirement that the grand master chair the meetings, empower an executive committee to meet monthly, modify the duties of the Admission Committee, and include provisions for an Audit Committee.

The Transition Committee, chaired by PDGM William L. Mills III, completed its charge. The Committee determined that it was time for MESH to discontinue the original assigned asset admission system in favor of an admission system requiring MESH to step up to the plate only when a resident or applicant's assets were insufficient. The committee presented such a system that was approved by the Board of Directors.

The Vision of MESH

Donations from North Carolina Masons declined in 2004. We attribute this to the combined effect of other worthy projects, a war on terrorism in America, and a decline in the market economy. We continue to experience an operating deficit.

With respect to the operating deficit, for want of a single annual gift of $25 per North Carolina Mason, we would have none. This prompts MESH to conceive innovative ways to eliminate the operating deficit when a small gift would solve the problem, not the least of which is to ask our members for their support.

The Board understands that it is not so much an expense problem, as it is a revenue challenge. The Board of Directors wants to help those who will need our services in the future, as all indications are that the number of eligible beneficiaries will grow over the next decade.

The Board of Directors has taken a large step toward a business model that addresses the replacement of our older congregate accommodations through continued amortization of costs without additional burden upon the craft. You are referred to the Administrator's Report for additional details about the business model and financing plan for this expansion.

Outreach of MESH

In fiscal year 2004, the Board of Directors placed into motion an Outreach Services Program. There are a number of public and private charitable programs and resources in North Carolina available to eligible persons in need. Within our fraternity, there is no one central information point for these fraternal and other resources.

Many of these private and public programs are entitlement or means-tested programs that would involve little or no cost to the beneficiary or MESH.

Understandably, the majority of those seeking relief through the Masonic and Eastern Star Home are from areas located within a reasonable distance of the community they consider home. Predictably, financial support from subordinate lodges and chapters in North Carolina is less from those areas that are underrepresented in the population being served at MESH. Although charity should know no geographical boundaries, the fact that fewer persons from remote areas seek relief through MESH, and the fact that charitable support is generally less from those areas, gives the Board of Directors of MESH reason to consider ways to better serve our needy members in areas more remote to Greensboro.

Relief is a shared responsibility of the family. Sometimes the family, and the lodge or chapter to which the qualified member belongs, is unable to satisfactorily meet the needs of a qualified beneficiary. The practical mission of MESH is to help lodges and chapters with a chronic relief burden that is beyond their available resources. Yet, admission to the Masonic and Eastern Star Home is not always the best answer. It may be in an applicant's best interests to not be required to live at MESH in order to receive services. Examples might be the proximity of family, the frailty of the applicant, financial resources, or the marital situation.

In the case of proximity, a lodge or chapter that is more remote from Greensboro might be more inclined to contribute when the Outreach Services Program is serving people who live in that lodge's or chapter's geographic area.

Within the Outreach Services Program would be a program designed to serve Masonic widows living in North Carolina. Masonic lodge widows programs range from being effective to nonexistent. Too often, widows are woefully uninformed about the Masonic and Eastern Star Home and their eligibility for assistance. As well, they are often uninformed about other private, local, county, state, and federal resources to which they may be eligible or entitled.

The State of North Carolina is rapidly growing as a retirement home for senior citizens. Notwithstanding, the population as a whole, the number of Masons and Eastern Star members over 65 years of age is growing rapidly and is expected to do so for several more decades. It is a fact that men, more often than not, predecease their wives.

Regardless of their financial needs, Masonic widows often grieve the loss of their link to Masonry. Compounding this is the fact that often the address of a Masonic widow is not included in a lodge publication. Likewise, there is reason to believe that an older Mason living remote from the Greensboro area, would be more inclined to support the Masonic and Eastern Star Home when he knows that MESH will, by default, be touching bases with his wife in the event of his death.

In administering this program, it is important that the constituent lodges in North Carolina understand that MESH is not interested in supplanting a current lodge responsibility. More so, MESH wishes to supplement and assist constituent lodges with information and resources that may be beyond the information or capability (cabletow) of a lodge. This program is in its infancy and will be further developed over the course of time.

Conclusion

Each resident served in your Masonic and Eastern Star Home represents more than a name. Each contribution and dollar spent represents more than money. Your Home is tangible evidence of the extent to which Masons accept their obligation. Charity is love, and your continued love is needed.

On behalf of your Board of Directors, "Thank you for your continued attention to this, one of the purest forms of charity that can be found." The Bible reminds us to plead the widow's cause and to visit the fatherless in their affliction. What better example can be found than our North Carolina Masonic Charities?

Report of the Grand Lodge Committee on the Masonic and Eastern Star Home of North Carolina, Inc.

The following Report of the Committee on the Masonic and Eastern Star Home was received and entered on the record.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

The Grand Lodge Committee on the Masonic and Eastern Star Home [MESH] met on the campus on Tuesday, July 26, 2005. We talked with the administrator, John A. Rose, and, throughout the day, with a number of staff and residents. Brother Rose, a past master and member of Stokesdale Lodge No. 428, presented a short program on MESH. We toured the campus for several hours and also joined the residents for lunch. The committee wishes to report to the Grand Lodge the MESH highlights of the year.

Admission Policies: During Fiscal Year 2004, a Transition Committee, chaired by Past Deputy Grand Master William L. Mills III, completed its charge. The original assigned asset admission system was discontinued and replaced with a new admission system requiring MESH to step up to the plate only when a resident or applicant's assets were insufficient.

Outreach Services: In Fiscal Year 2004, the Board of Directors placed into motion an Outreach Services Program. There are a number of public and private charitable programs and resources in North Carolina available to eligible persons in need. This can be helpful to our fraternal members as, within our fraternity, there is no one central information point on resources for the elderly. Within the Outreach Services Program would be a program designed to assist lodges with the chronic relief burden of Masonic widows.

Financial Issues: While providing a service of huge social and health benefit, MESH is currently in a period of uncertain growth. While the need for the institution is growing within the fraternity, the current financial contributions from the brethren are insufficient for proper stewardship of this important charity. Donations from North Carolina Masons declined in 2004. We learned that the average gift per Mason in North Carolina was $7.62 per member making up only 12 percent of the budget. Deficits created by the lack of support are currently draining reserves, have not allowed for staff raises for two years, and have required reduction of the number of residents through attrition. The latest fundraising effort (the Keep the Light Shining Bright campaign) was not effective, partly due to lack of support from lodge officers relating information to the membership. A transition committee has been required to revamp the admissions policies from an assigned asset admission system to a less charitable fee-for-services system better enabled to support the large percentage of need-based residents unsubsidized by the blue lodges.

The administrator attributes the decline in giving to the combined effect of other worthy projects, a war on terrorism in America, and a decline in the market economy. The committee learned that MESH subsidizes 150 of 264 residents and that our fraternal gifts are sufficient to support 90. Our residents are doing the best they can to bring revenue to the table. Through resident fees, assignments, and entitlements, nearly 80 percent of the revenue comes from the residents.

The administrator would like to see a single annual gift of $25 per North Carolina Mason, thereby eliminating the current operating deficit. This fact prompts MESH to consider other ways to increase revenue to support the sixty residents whose support must come from MESH's small savings account. This includes means-tested entitlement programs and expanding the fee-for-service program. In the interim, it has been necessary to employ the Outreach Program for those on the waiting list rather than admit additional residents who require subsidy.

Condition of the Facility Physical Plant: Recent efforts to renovate and revitalize the physical plant have been largely successful, and appropriate maintenance has allowed for continued use of several buildings that should have long since been demolished and replaced. A carefully considered program of renovation and replacement of existing structures on the campus has been developed to allow for the continued growth and financial stability of MESH over the next 30 years. Although there is currently no tenant in the older health center (previously occupied by the Blumenthal Nursing Home), other income streams are being identified that might help turn physical liabilities back into assets for the short-term until demolition and replacement.

The Committee learned that the Board of Directors has taken a significant action toward an operating philosophy that, in the ideal, will help us to replace our older accommodations. We refer you to the Administrator's Annual Report for additional details of this action. The sum and substance of the plan is to "grow our way out of a deficit."

Demand in the Future: The Committee heard Brother Rose's sobering report that the number of fraternally eligible members over 65 years of age is growing rapidly and is expected to do so for several more decades. We must be prepared to serve this cohort yet to come.

Service provision transitioning: For more than forty years, gerontologists have advocated a best-practice model of "aging in place." This model seeks to maintain the personal autonomy and dignity of individual elders through assistance in keeping their own homes instead of moving into a retirement facility. MESH has begun exploring ways of assisting with this issue in developing an outreach program. Outreach is an essential aspect of our charity, especially in remote areas of the state. Several models exist that demonstrate the efficacy of such programs, especially in serving as a clearinghouse of public and private assistance, and in database management of needs and resources. Specifically, information can be disseminated concerning utilities relief, medical care assistance (mostly from county Departments of Public Health), and food provision (e.g., Meals on Wheels). Some lodges in North Carolina are not well equipped for records maintenance of their needy brethren and widows, and thus MESH might be able to support the individual acts of charity of lodges which might otherwise be deficient in these aspects. Given the unique resources of the population resident at MESH, this might also be a fabulous opportunity for service to those residents who are not; otherwise able to contribute by answering phones or helping with mailings, thus decreasing the cost of the outreach programs and need for further paid employees.

Loss of a Friend: The committee learned about the untimely traffic accident related death of Donna Morgan, grand secretary of the Grand Chapter of North Carolina, Order of the Eastern Star. This death was a shock to many residents and staff at MESH who knew her as a friend, a dedicated member of the Order who most committed to our Home.

The Value of MESH Employees: Brother Rose also acknowledged the value and importance of the managers at MESH who report to him and the other employees of MESH. Every employee is to be an advocate and champion for the rights and lives of our residents. The paradigm for the employees of MESH is intriguing: "I work in your Home. You do not live in my institution." The old, "I know what's good for you" perspective is replaced with, "You know what's good for you. Tell me and I'll do the best I can within the cabletow I have been given."

Summary: One of the key needs for both MESH and the Masonic Home for Children at Oxford (MHCO) is a program of responsible, accountable "ambassadors" from the charities to the lodges to facilitate coordination of fundraising, visitation, and service provision. Too often during business meetings, lodges will have no report, nor anyone to give a report, on MESH or the MHCO. As months pass by, little is thought of on the individual or district level of these charities, with the exception of major fundraisers. Since the overall giving and percentage giving have both dropped significantly, we can hardly state that contributions are going well from blue lodges. It is recommended that district ambassadors (DAs) be appointed within each Masonic district to coordinate the raising of the awareness of the charities and their vibrant services supplied to Masonry and the state. Training, and possibly even special aprons could be provided by MESH and MHCO to these DAs. The DAs could provide talks to lodges, thereby decreasing expenditures from the charities in sending their employees to lodges, while also acting as conduits for dissemination of information about the charities, and contributing to the outreach missions of the charities by forming linkages between resources and those in need.

Report of the Administrator of The Masonic Home for Children at Oxford

The following Report of the Administrator of the Masonic Home for Children at Oxford was received and entered on the record.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

2005: The Year in Review

This past year has been a busy and successful year for the children at the Masonic Home for Children at Oxford. Throughout the year the census remained at nearly 80 children, and, over the course of the year, we served more than 130 children and families through the support of the North Carolina Masons and other friends and supporters. This amounted to more than 31,000 days of care. This compares about equally to the previous year's census but with a reduction in child caring expenditures of over $530,000 and a reduction of over one million dollars over the past two years.

One of the major accomplishments of the past year was to revisit our Mission Statement. Working together, the Board and staff restated our mission as the following: The Mission of The Masonic Home for Children at Oxford is to assist families in need by providing a safe homelike setting for children until they can be reunited with their families or achieve independence. We fulfill this mission through:

- Quality residential child care services to include institutional foster care,
- Parent education and counseling,
- Social skill development for children and families,
- Spiritual development for children and families,
- Academic development and achievement for children,
- Assistance for the advancement of higher education for client children and former child clients of the residential program to include both academic and vocational schooling,
- Community education and child and family advocacy,
- Family reintegration and assistance with permanency planning,
- Promotion of independent living education for youth, and
- After-care and follow-up services.

This Mission Statement aligns our stated purpose with what the Home has been working toward for many years and more accurately defines what we do on a day-to-day basis.

This year our Children's Home has completed a full year of operations under its new procedures and new program of care that allows us to give those families and referral agencies seeking to place a child or children an answer to their placement questions on the same day that they make an application. This is a significant change from only a year-and-a-half ago when placement was taking several weeks, and at times, several months to get a child into care. Staff members assist the people making a referral at every step of the way, easing the process and relieving the trauma of placement at every opportunity. Children at the Home come from all across the state and are referred to us by Masons, parents, grandparents, churches, schools, and Departments of Social Services. Some have histories of abuse and neglect, some have school problems or learning difficulties, and some just need a place to live while their families get back on their feet. All of them need to be loved and cared for in a compassionate and caring manner by staff dedicated to the Home's mission.

There is still room for more children, also. Although all our newer Homes and three of our older Homes have remained at or near capacity over the past year we still have the capacity to take in more children. A call remains out to Masons across the state who may know of a family in need to contact us here in Oxford so that we may be of assistance.

Some things, however, do not change. For example, the children still have jobs that they go to after school and in the summer where they get experience in the world of work and develop good work skills and a good work ethic. The children still have grades to maintain in their schoolwork, and some have to attend tutoring and remedial studies in the afternoons and evenings. Children still attend church and Bible study at the York Rite Chapel on campus and are involved in Vacation Bible School and other special religious events at Easter, Christmas, baccalaureate service, Thanksgiving and other times. And, children still spend a lot of time at old-fashioned play. They are involved in soccer, basketball, baseball, softball, karate, gymnastics, tumbling, swimming, and just having fun. Some of these activities are offered through the Granville County Schools and many are offered right on the campus of the Home. Our own gymnasium is a hub of activity seven-days-a-week where children and adults play individual and team sports, play pool, take classes, or watch television with their friends.

During the summer the children went on weekly trips sponsored by Masonic lodges across the state including trips to the Zoo in Asheboro, a trip to the beach in Wilmington, the annual Mocksville Picnic, a water park in Greensboro, "Take a Kid Fishing" trip in Morehead City, and to Kerr Lake for fishing, boating, and just plain fun.

The children did well in school this past year with four students graduating from high school, one from community college and one from the University of North Carolina at Wilmington. The overall grade point average for our children was 82.17 percent and all but four passed their grade for the year. Of those four, three came into our program too far behind to catch up with the rest of their class. Additionally, 27 percent of our children made the Dean's List at least one of the quarters during the year. Our on-campus school served 25 students either as a transitional setting giving new enrollees a fresh start or for an alternative for those children having behavior difficulties in the regular classroom setting.

The staff providing the care for our children are the key to a successful operation. Just as in any organization, a program is only as good as the staff who operate it. Over the past two years we have made a concentrated effort to improve the quality of the child care workers at the Home and are making great strides at this goal. At the time of this writing, our staff averages over two years college and over three years residential child care experience. A full 100 percent have high school diplomas, 21 percent hold an associate's degree, 17 percent hold undergraduate degrees, and 17 percent hold graduate degrees. The Home's 26 child care workers possess over 40 years experience in working with children and 70 percent have worked in other residential child care facilities before coming to the Masonic Home for Children at Oxford. Combined they average more than two years experience here at our Home. Over the year they completed 111 hours of training in such areas as child abuse prevention, grief and loss with children in care, resident rights, reporting abuse, cultural diversity, defensive driving, CPR/first aid, discipline techniques, and privacy and confidentiality. All the direct care staff attended training to become certified as professional child care workers. All of this training and certification is aimed at producing the very best in professional care for the children in our care and their families. The role of child care worker is a difficult one, and turnover is always high. We continue to need good workers if we want to remain among the very best children's homes in the state and nation.

Over the past year many capital improvements have been made on campus. The old "baby cottage," or Dunn Cottage, has been completely renovated through a generous gift from an alumnus, Bill Cobb. The newly renovated facility will house the archives and provide meeting rooms and offices for the campus and its programs. There will also be a complete professional library for direct care workers and a research library for alumni. Additionally, the roads have been repaired and repaved and re-curbed. The gymnasium has had new windows installed, and a new roof put on it, and is in the process of being upgraded. A new playground and pavilion have been installed that meets federal and state safety requirements and is being enjoyed by the children.

Our Home is fully licensed by the State of North Carolina and is well on its way to achieving national accreditation through the Council on Accreditation of Services to Children and Families. These two bodies set the standards for best practices and go a long way toward ensuring that our Home offers only the best care possible. Additionally, the Home is affiliated with the Child Welfare League of America, the Alliance for Children and Families, Southeastern Group Child Care Association, Masonic Homes Executives Associations of North America, Children and Family Services Association of North Carolina, Prevent Child Abuse of North Carolina, the NC Center for Nonprofits, and the Association of Child and Youth Care Practice. These associations and affiliations help us to further our efforts to raise our level of professionalism and offer the best quality possible to the children and families with whom we work.

We are certainly most grateful for all of the financial support we receive from our lodges and individual Masons. Professional child care workers, devoted support staff, excellent programs, and first-class facilities are all indicators of the continuing support of Masons across the state who give of their time and money to keep the Masonic Home for Children at Oxford among the best children's homes in the nation. It is this generous charity and care for those less fortunate in our society that is the mark of Masons everywhere and certainly that is true here in North Carolina.

Report of the Committee on The Masonic Home for Children at Oxford

The following Report of the Committee on the Masonic Home for Children at Oxford was received and entered on the record.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

The Grand Lodge Committee on the Masonic Home for Children met on Saturday, July 23, 2005. We spent several hours with Doug McConnell, administrator. He gave us a candid overview of the changes that are being made at Oxford. After the meeting, we were conducted on an extensive tour of the campus.

Findings: The Home is serving 74 children as of this writing, and they are in receipt of several applications for service. The children come from all across the state of North Carolina and a couple from across the state line in Virginia and two from Maryland who were referred by a North Carolina lodge and sponsored by that lodge. Referrals come from Masons, individuals related to Masons, parents and grandparents, and departments of social services. There are 15 children from the departments of social services and eight of them were in care before they became wards of the state.

The Committee found that the morale of both the children and staff was high and that children were involved in many normal childhood activities at school, at home, and in the community. Older children have jobs and work experiences both on and off campus. Some children were involved in after-school tutoring. Others play on varsity and junior varsity athletic teams at their community school or are active with intramural team sports on the campus.

Children attend church services at the York Rite Chapel on campus and participate in Bible study and other normal church-related events and activities. Throughout the spring and summer months, a Bible study group met outdoors at the campus Thousand Dollar Spring and had old fashioned gospel singing and a bonfire. The children also participated in choir and other special religious events on Easter, Christmas, baccalaureate, and Thanksgiving. Several community churches hold special worship services with our children and present different programs throughout the year that are widely enjoyed by children, staff and friends of the Home.

This was the second year of Masonic-sponsored summer trips across the state that allows Masonic Lodges the opportunity to visit with the children in their own communities. Lodges in Asheboro sponsored a trip to North Carolina Zoo and provided lunch and dinner for the children and staff. Lodges in the Wilmington area sponsored a beach trip and meals for the campus and spent the day with us at Carolina Beach. Lodges in the Greensboro area provided a trip to the water park for the children and fed them at the end of the day. Other lodges across the state had children in their communities for camping, fishing, a community fair and other activities. These trips provide lodges an excellent way to be involved with our children and to enjoy a day of fun and relaxation in their own communities.

Saint John's Day celebrations were held again this year and were very successful. An estimated 15,000 people attend the event this year, however, and the costs of the event to the Home have been greatly lowered over the past several years. The Home still needs volunteers to assist in such things as parking, preparations, and cleanup after the guests leave.

The Home has been involved in a major renovation and repair effort over the past year. New roofs, new windows, and a heating and air conditioning system have been installed at the Creasy Proctor Gymnasium. New curbing has been installed on the roads and new pavement laid on most of the campus streets. Dunn Cottage, also known as the baby cottage, has been completely renovated and turned into a new facility for the Sally Mae Ligon Archives and a conference center; completely paid for by a charitable alumnus, William Cobb. The Committee toured the buildings and grounds and found them to be in excellent condition, beautiful, and well maintained.

The Board of Directors has recently approved a major renovation effort to upgrade some of the existing older cottages to accommodate overnight guests including visiting Masons, donors, off-duty staff, and others related to the Home. These units will also provide living arrangements for older adolescents leaving residential care and those struggling to make it on their own in a new independent living program. This new program will focus on continuing formal and vocational education and in preparing youth to live interdependently as adults. One of the renovated units will also house the newly formed Orphans Lodge which is scheduled to receive its charter at this year's Annual Communication.

The administration has put a concentrated effort into the training of the staff that works directly with the children. Most of the homes where the children live are overseen by a married couple, most middle-aged, and experienced in residential child care. The couples work 20-and-a-half days on duty, followed by nine-and-a-half days off duty. On the days they change over, they are required to attend training and staff meetings as a group. One of the concentrations this past year has been on getting all the direct care staff nationally certified in their field and increasing their level of professionalism. Other training included classes in CPR and first aid, identifying and reporting abuse, blood borne pathogens, confidentiality and privacy, proper discipline, cultural diversity, preparing youth for independence, and working with groups. Staff attended off-campus workshops and seminars, and some attended formal college programs related to their profession.

The Home has also been engaged in preparation for national accreditation through the Council on Accreditation of Services to Children and Families (COA). At the time of this writing the administration was awaiting the results of this effort and was making plans to complete any corrections or shortcomings that the Review Team might find. The accreditation process examined such things as risk management and safety, procedures and policies, care and treatment of children, the Home's efforts at continuing to make improvements, buildings and grounds, the way the organization treats its staff, legal aspects of their program, educational efforts for children and staff, salaries and benefits for staff, insurance coverage, financial soundness of the organization, and the overall state of the Home. Achieving national accreditation from this organization is further evidence that our Home is operating as a children's home should operate and is a testament that it meets the highest national standards in residential child care.

There is still a great need for financial support from our lodges and from Masons. According to results from the 2004 annual audit, Masonic donations accounted for 11.44 percent of the donations. This amount is far below what is needed to continue to operate our Home. Planned giving accounted for the largest segment of the giving and most of that was from non-Masons. Investment earnings, corporate gifts and grants, and third-party trusts accounted for most of the remainder of the revenue brought into the Home. The average gift from Masons was just under $17 per Mason. For the Home to continue to operate efficiently it would need $50 per Mason. Two memorial gifts of $25 each year would make this amount. In one district, the average gift was under two dollars!

The School of Graphic Arts, the print shop, is operating in the black for the first time in many years. Good management and quality workmanship from the employees in the print shop has resulted in more print jobs and better production in graphic arts. The shop still needs to have the support of our lodges and our Brother Masons with their printing and graphic arts design needs.

We found the Masonic Home for Children at Oxford to be in very good condition including buildings, grounds, finances, staff, and most of all, children. Our Home continues to be one of the best children's homes in the state and in the nation and, thanks to Masons throughout North Carolina, it is still a great place to be a kid.

The Committee would like to challenge every member of the craft to come and see what they are doing at Oxford. As society has changed over the last 132 years, so has the Masonic Home for Children, but the mission remains strong — to help children in need. The Home in Oxford is changing very quickly to meet new challenges and to find new ways to serve the most at risk children of North Carolina. No institution was ever founded on a more solid foundation. The mission to help children has and always will be a part of the North Carolina Masonry, and Oxford is leading the way. Brethren, you can be proud of the Home in Oxford and know that your efforts are truly helping children. The Grand Lodge Committee for the Masonic Home for Children would ask that every Masonic brother in North Carolina help do God's work at Oxford by supporting it financially and with their prayers.

Report of the Representative to the George Washington Masonic National Memorial Association

The following Report of the Representative to the George Washington Masonic National Memorial Association was received and entered on the record.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

The 2005 Conference of Grand Masters of Masons in North America was held in Calgary Alberta, Canada, February 20–22, 2005. The 95th annual meeting of the George Washington Masonic National Memorial Association was held in conjunction with the conference on February 22 with President Scott Stoner, PGM Pennsylvania, presiding.

In addition to the annual business meeting of the Memorial, at which time the reports were given, one of the breakout sessions of the Conference was on the George Washington Memorial.

The present endowment of the Memorial is just over $11 million. The goal of the Association is $20 million, which would produce approximately $1 million in income each year. The annual expenses of the Memorial are $1.1 million. The memorial receives $325,000 from the grand lodges annually and $135,000 in rent from public use and fundraising projects.

One of the goals of the Association is for every grand lodge to contribute on a per member basis. If every grand lodge would contribute 50 cents per member, it would generate $875,000 that along with current initiations of $125,000, would total $1 million.

If every grand lodge would adopt a per capita contribution and keep the five dollars per initiation fee in place, the Memorial could soon be fully endowed. Grand lodge contributions are currently made in several ways, among them are per initiate, from the general budget, from their charity foundation, per member, and per member and per initiate combined.

In my last report, I listed several programs in effect to honor individuals with memorials. These programs are still in effect. Since my last report PGM Charles A. Lewis and his wife Helga have honored her parents (Frank A. and Charlotte Gunkel) by making them Twenty-First Century members of the Association, and Lee Long of Candler has become a Silver Craftsman member.

The George Washington Masonic National Memorial, which honors the first president, is visited, on average, almost 2,000 times a month. It is our most visible Masonic structure and must be preserved.

I make the following recommendations that:

1. The Grand Lodge of North Carolina continue its membership in the George Washington Masonic National Memorial Foundation.
2. The Grand Lodge encourage contributions and visits to the Memorial through The North Carolina Mason and its web site.
3. The Grand Lodge initiate an annual per member contribution in addition to its five dollars per initiate. I recommend a five cents per member contribution the first year, and an increase as funds are available in the future.

William G. Simpson, PGM
Memorial Representative

Report of the Representative to the Masonic Service Association of North America

The following Report of the Representative to the Masonic Service Association of North America was received and entered on the record.

To The Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

The annual meeting of the Masonic Service Association of North America was held on February 20, 2005. The meeting was held in conjunction with the Conference of Grand Masters of North America at the Hyatt Regency, Calgary, Alberta, Canada and was attended by your MSA Representative.

Reports were presented and approved on the various Masonic Service Association programs including Education and Publications, Disaster Relief, The Masonic Information Center, and the Hospital Visitation Program.

The MSA Hospital Visitation Program continues to be a visible expression of Freemasonry's commitment of service to mankind. In North Carolina there are Masonic representatives at each of the four Veterans Administration Medical Centers, giving many hours of volunteer time visiting and serving hospitalized veterans. Their dedication to this charitable endeavor makes them worthy of mention in this report. They are Inza Lance at Asheville, Cecil Lee at Durham, John Lynch at Fayetteville, and William McComb at Salisbury. Along with their assistants, these individuals are rendering a truly unselfish service in the name of Freemasonry.

Appeals for disaster relief were made by the Masonic Service Association during 2004 for a number of grand lodges experiencing the devastation of hurricanes, tornadoes, and other disasters. It was reported that the Grand Lodge of Florida had received $154,000 for help in recovery from four devastating hurricanes during 2004.

The Masonic Information Center is a branch of the MSA and continues to develop both audio and print products that present Masonry in a positive light. A Masonic Public Awareness Program is currently being developed for distribution to grand lodges.

It is recommended that the Grand Lodge of North Carolina continue its membership in the Masonic Service Association and its participation in the MSA Hospital Visitation Program at the VA Medical Centers in North Carolina.

Representative

The Board of Publication of The North Carolina Mason

The following Report of the Board of Publication of The North Carolina Mason was received and entered on the record.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

Your North Carolina Mason is, and continues to be, one of the outstanding Masonic papers in the country, reaching over 50,000 Masons in North Carolina and many Masons in other jurisdictions. It has always been the goal of our editor, Ric Carter, and the Board of Publications, to present the views of our members in an unbiased manner, whether they be the popular or minority viewpoint. We are grateful to contributing members for their enthusiasm, interest, and cooperation in the submission of pictures and articles on lodge activities for printing which helps make our paper the high quality publication that you, as members, deserve. However, this section of the paper, ever so interesting to the craft, can improve if a little extra time is taken to insure that the camera is in proper focus. Brethren, keep up the good work, your picture quality seems to be improving.

Have you noticed that your North Carolina Mason does not have an address label and is now bar coded; that the name and address are printed directly on the paper; and that there are tabs to hold the paper together? Bar coding the paper has proved to be very beneficial to us from a cost stand point to improved delivery. The Post Office has to do minimum handling; the size of The North Carolina Mason is the maximum size of a first-class letter; it is addressed like a letter; and it can thereby be sorted with first-class mail for delivery. This makes for a more timely delivery to the brethren.

It is a continuing concern of your Board of Publications to exercise good stewardship in keeping costs down without sacrificing information flow or quality. The content of The North Carolina Mason has improved again this year, and each brother is receiving his paper in a timely manner and at the lowest Postal rate. Bar coding and tabbing started with the mailing in December 2000, and it has taken until this year too realize its full potential. This has resulted in a savings on postage through the years. We will underspend our Postal budget by $1,000 for the 2005 year. Bar coding has now been fully implemented to its maximum savings, and there is a proposed 5.4 percent across the board increase in postage scheduled for the first quarter of 2006. We are forced to increase the proposed Postal budget by $1,100. This is the first increase on this budget item in more than seven years.

The North Carolina Mason has been reformatted to make it more readable and use a little less ink. It also received two national awards: 1). Second Place in Editing for the Overall Publication; and 2). First Place in Editorials. Thank you, Ric Carter, a job well done.

We wish to thank our Grand Lodge officers for their help and support. The Graphic Arts and Printing Department of the Masonic Home for Children in Oxford deserves special recognition for their outstanding service.

Do you need to read an article in The North Carolina Mason, but your copy has been misplaced? The web site <http://www.grandlodge-nc.org> will have a copy on file that you can access through the Internet. The Board of Publication budget supports the web site - an electronic publication.

We hope that you get as much joy out of The North Carolina Mason as we do in keeping the means working so that you can be kept well informed. We have had a great year! Everything is working as it should, and more efficiently, and with only a two percent budget increase for 2006. Enjoy your paper!

Respectfully submitted,
Eddie H. Moody Jr., Chairman

Report of the Grand Lodge Committee on Masonic Education

The following Report of the Committee on Committee on Masonic Education was received and entered on the record.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

Thus far in 2005, the North Carolina Grand Lodge Committee on Masonic Education has met three times: at the Grand Lodge offices in Raleigh on March 17, at MESH in Greensboro on May 20, and at the Annual Communication in Durham on September 22, with all members present at one or more of the meetings. All of our committee members, extending from Cullowhee to Manteo, have email, and therefore we were able to communicate quite effectively. The committee has been active assessing the educational and developmental needs of the North Carolina Grand Lodge in reference to both its subordinate Lodge officers and general membership. Moreover, the popular Lodge Night booklets will continue to be produced by the immediate Past Chairman Dan Weatherington.

The committee reviewed the North Carolina Masonic Survey. Authorized by the Grand Lodge in 2003, this baseline survey was conducted by members of the Department of Political Science at UNC-Wilmington. Twenty-two hundred questionnaires were mailed to Masons throughout North Carolina, to which 454 responded. The information collected included demographic information of our membership, the state of Masonry within the Grand Lodge, and reaction to possible changes in a number of areas. A report, and accompanying analysis, was supplied to the Grand Lodge in May 2004. It was commissioned as a database for the fraternity's internal use – a snapshot of the Craft at a certain point in time – especially by its various committees. While it is an important tool in learning about our membership, the Education Committee is but one of many that will draw from this document.

Recognizing the validity and concern inherent in Grand Master Pervier's emphasis on retaining new members, the committee has focused on the goal of keeping those newly raised, as well as long-standing members of the fraternity, involved. The key, we believe, is education, not just of candidates, but their families, the community, and even the teachers themselves. If our youngest Brothers have this firm basis, they will be more likely to continue their Masonic journey, becoming productive members of the Craft.

The Committee believes orientation is vital for the future, and serves a number of functions. It informs the candidate and family about the fraternity, its expectations, and some of its practices. It also establishes an important bond between the candidate and the lodge. Such an undertaking may help to avert problems within the candidate's family, or even misunderstanding by the candidate himself. If the only orientation a candidate receives is a perfunctory investigating committee visit, then both sides have lost out on a wonderful opportunity for conversation and the exchange of ideas and expectations. Closely related is mentoring. Coaching/mentoring is more than just the transmission of the catechism; it is the inculcation of ideals, history, ritual, and understanding. Consequently, Masonry in North Carolina must have the strongest instructors possible. At the same time, there should be some level of consistency throughout the Grand Lodge, since it can be interpreted differently. It is felt that this need for definition and the establishment of guidelines and core knowledge would make these subjects excellent inclusions to any materials produced by the Committee. Emphasis should be placed not just upon ritual proficiency, but also the history, landmarks, and other important aspects of the Craft. This would greatly assist in the previously stated goals of creating strong mentors, coaches, and especially officers, who have a firm grasp of the intricacies of our fraternity, and thus be better enabled to support new brothers.

Fortunately, the Grand Lodge has programs developed to achieve this goal, namely, the Program for Progress and the Lodge System for Masonic Education. In other words, the committee sees no need to reinvent the wheel. The committee has spent considerable effort examining these educational systems. The Program for Progress was developed in 1998 in response to the need for a replacement of the much older Lodge System for Masonic Education. The latter was originally published in 1936, and revised through 1969, when publication ceased. This pamphlet has been digitally scanned and is available through the Grand Lodge website: www.grandLodge-nc.org-education-LSMCv2.pdf. Both are excellent educational tools which need to be utilized by our lodges.

Another aspect of fraternal education undertaken by the committee centers on the Officers' Handbook compiled by Dudley Sheppard for use in his home lodge, Gate City 694 in Greensboro. In their present incarnation, the booklets contain checklists, calendars, officer information, Code regulations, and other items that can assist each officer to better perform their duties. Each is designed specifically for its position, albeit much of the information carries throughout. After review and discussion, the committee felt that this was a project worth pursuing on a state level. Although the process of editing and approval is underway, it is understood that these handbooks will be continually reviewed, revised, and updated to continue to serve as an instruction tool for officers and the Craft in general. Additional topics that could be covered in either addenda or a revised edition include historical or educational background of Masonry and ritual, mentoring/sponsorship, coaching, investigating committees/orientation to the craft, and lecturing. Much of this information can derive from the Lodge System of Masonic Education and Program for Progress. Appropriate sections can be chosen as needed from these works as supplements to the handbooks, thus introducing a new generation to the material. These complete systems can then be re-implemented themselves. This report reflects the two separate projects for this committee.

Rick Smith, Chairman
Brian Edwards, Secretary

Report of the Committee on Masonic Public Relations

The following Report of the Committee on Masonic Public Relations was received and entered on the record.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

The Committee on Masonic Public Relations has held three meetings so far this year. We have continued working on a new informational brochure. We have looked at several different designs and are attempting to get prices on producing the finished product.

We have also begun work on the formation of special interest lodges. These lodges would bring Masons of like interest together to participate in their interest and fellowship with brother Masons. We are seeking input from brethren on what type of lodges they would like to see established.

Our final project is in its very early stages. We are looking at some type of state-wide project that would present Masonry in a positive light. We are hoping we will be able to come up with a project that will give Masonry a positive image and draw media attention.

We solicit suggestions from all brethren who have ideas on how to better present our beloved fraternity to the public in a positive fashion.

Respectfully submitted,
Ray Hall, Chairman

North Carolina Committee on Masonic Youth Organizations

The following Report of the Committee on Masonic Youth Organizations was received and entered on the record.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina,

It is my pleasure to update you on some of the activities of our Masonic youth organizations during the past year.

DeMolay

The DeMolays have chapters meeting in Jacksonville and Raleigh, and chapter structures are still in place in Charlotte and Salisbury. Unfortunately, the chapters in Greensboro and Asheboro have gone inactive. There is, however, interest in starting chapters in Roxboro, Roanoke Rapids, Davie County, and the Sylva area. Efforts are underway to get those chapters up and running. Chuck Rouse, of Hiram Lodge No. 40, continues to serve as executive officer of North Carolina DeMolay, and Frank Silber, of James B. Green Lodge No. 735, continues to act as the deputy executive officer.

In June, Brothers Rouse and Silber attended the International Supreme Council meeting in Orlando, Florida, where Brother Silber was invested as the newest active member of the International Supreme Council. They were also able to bring with them two DeMolays from the Raleigh Chapter (Andy Carlson and Hunter Crouch) and one DeMolay from the Jacksonville Chapter (Frankie Fickey), who attended as delegates to the International DeMolay Congress sessions. The DeMolay degrees performed at the Grand Lodge communication last year were very well received and led to several inquiries.

However, there is a real need for more commitment from lodges and bodies across the state as the DeMolays continue their efforts to try to rebuild throughout North Carolina.

Rainbows

The Rainbows are currently the largest of the three Masonic youth organizations in North Carolina. The Rainbows have assemblies in Gastonia, Jacksonville, Fayetteville, Albemarle, Winston-Salem, Raleigh, Goldsboro, Bahama, Wilmington, Hillsborough, Spring Lake, and Elizabeth City. The Rainbows are making efforts to start a new assembly in Boone and reactivate the assembly in Shallotte. Kay Letterman continues to serve as supreme inspector, the adult leader of the International Order of the Rainbows for Girls in North Carolina. Kay also serves as supreme religion of the Supreme Assembly. In June, Laura Michelle Bower, a Rainbow girl from the Onslow Assembly in Jacksonville, was installed as grand worthy advisor at this year's Grand Assembly in Raleigh. Emily Brown, from Gastonia Assembly, was installed as grand worthy associate advisor. The Bahama Assembly, led by Cathy Dearing, mother advisor, received honors as Assembly of the Year. As part of their charity work this year, the Rainbow girls will be gathering stuffed animals, toys, and games for the Shriner's Hospital. The Rainbows also will continue to support the Etrulia H. Taylor and Estella M. Bell scholarship funds in North Carolina. The Rainbows have many activities planned throughout the next year. On September 16–18, 2005, the Rainbows across the state and prospective members will be going to Camp Rainbow for fun activities and a visit to Tweetsie Railroad. On October 28–30, 2005, the Rainbows will be going to the Jones Masonic Campus. On May 6, 2006, the Rainbows will be having a dance on the Battleship North Carolina in Wilmington, with Rainbow Girls and DeMolays from South Carolina and Georgia (in addition to North Carolina) being invited to attend.

Job's Daughters

The Job's Daughters have a Bethel in Raleigh. The adult advisors of the Bethel are Irene Birbeck, who is serving as Bethel guardian, and Alvis Warren, who is acting as associate Bethel guardian. Jaci Batchelor and Ashley Robinson have been serving as honored queens. Next year, Sandy Dunbar will be serving as Bethel guardian and Kayla Bitonio is expected to be honored queen. The Job's Daughters continue to work hard supporting the Hearing Impaired Kids Endowment fund (HIKE). They were able to raise and donate $200 to this charity this past term.

NC Masonic Foundation Scholarship

Thanks to continued funding from the North Carolina Masonic Foundation, the Scholarship Subcommittee was able to award two scholarships in the amount of $1,300 each, to Jaci Batchelor and Lindsey Hall, two active members of the Raleigh Job's Daughters Bethel. Jaci will be attending East Carolina University, and Lindsey will be attending Liberty University. Individuals serving on the Scholarship Subcommittee include John Rose, E. John Elmore, Leanne Keith, and Frank and Johanna Silber. The Committee believes this scholarship is a wonderful program and sincerely hopes it will be able to continue offering financial aid to deserving members of our Masonic youth organizations.

Assistance

Our Masonic youth organizations are facing many challenges, and they need our support. If there a DeMolay chapter, Rainbow assembly, or Job's Daughter Bethel in your area, I encourage you to help them find new members and/or serve as an advisor. If you are not in one of these areas, please consider getting your Masonic lodge or other Masonic body to sponsor a new chapter, Bethel or assembly. These young men and women are the future leaders of our lodges and Masonic organizations. With your help, the future of Masonry will be in good hands.

Report of the Commission on Subordinate Lodges Special Activities

The following Report of the Commission on Subordinate Lodges Special Activities was received and entered on the record.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

The Special Activities Committee is pleased to report that fundraising activities in the subordinate lodges have been increasingly active during the 2004–2005 calendar year. The committee has received requests from sixty-three lodges for various types of fundraising activities this year. The committee is pleased to announce that all requests were approved, and most of the fundraisers were very successful.

The Special Activities Commission was invited to speak on fundraising last year during Grand Lodge at the lodge secretaries meeting. This proved to be an interesting meeting with many questions being asked by the lodge secretaries. More lodges are now beginning to rely on the Special Activities Commission for questions and concerns about their projects.

Many lodges continue to have questions on what they can and cannot do pertaining to fundraising. As a result of these questions, the committee has revised the fundraiser guidelines from the previous year. For the benefit of those lodges that do not have a copy of the guidelines, they are herein printed for your convenience.

Special Activities Guidelines

A lodge may hold up to two food fundraisers during each calendar year for the charities. Each fundraisers should be different and not two of the same kind. (such as a barbecue pork in the spring and barbecue chicken in the fall). The Commission should approve all fundraisers plus any additional fundraisers a lodge may want to hold. A lodge should try not have more than two food projects a year as it may be considered by government officials as interfering with local businesses.

A fundraiser should be completed in approximately 60 days from start to finish. You do not want to have an ongoing project, like for instance, a lodge breakfast the first Saturday of each month for six months or a raffle where tickets would be sold for four or five months.

A lodge may have a fundraiser for a building fund project. If the lodge is in major need of a new roof, carpet, air conditioning or heating system, handicap ramp, etc., a fundraiser may be used to supplement the building fund project. The building fund project should be a once-a-year effort. A raffle is not a good idea for a building fund project because 90% of the proceeds will go to charity, and the remaining 10% to be used by the lodge will not be as great.

All printed tickets for any project should indicate where the proceeds are going and what charities will benefit from them.

A fundraiser may NOT be used to supplement the lodge operating expense account. A dues increase should be considered if there is a short fall in operating expenses. This is covered under Section 77-1 of The Code.

A fundraiser may be used for a community project such as placing books in the town library, scholarship fund, etc.

Ideas for a fundraising project include: food projects, golf tournaments, putt-putt golf tournaments where the families can be included, fishing tournaments, pancake breakfasts, charity motorcycle rides, etc. Use your imagination.

Raffles may also be used. Guidelines for raffles are a little stricter. Ninety percent of all raffles receipts MUST, by state law, go to the charity. Some raffles that have been used in the past include: TVs, a vacation plan package (like a trip to Kings Dominion, etc.), gift certificates, motorcycles, cars, campers, utility trailers, riding lawn mowers, power washers, shopping sprees with a local business, black powder guns or shotguns (A note on firearms – Permits are not required for black powder but ARE on all others. The winner will need to acquire a firearms permit before taking possession of the firearm.) 50/50 drawings should not to be used. Cash cannot be given away as a prize, but gift certificates can.

There is an application form that should be used for the approval of all fundraising projects and a financial report form to be used after it is completed. Both these should be mailed to the current chairman of the Special Activities Committee. The current chairman is:

J. Luigi Ammons
PO Box 6043
Raleigh, NC 27628
919-834-8873

jlammons@mindspring.com

All lodges should continue to use The Code of the Grand Lodge of NC to assist them with qualifications on fundraising projects. Reg. 43-12 covers fundraising activities. Some lodges are not obtaining permission from the Special Activities Commission prior to their project. The Commission hopes this will improve in the following year with better communications between the subordinate lodges and the Special Activities Commission. The Commission's main purpose is to keep lodges in good standing with the tax structure in North Carolina.

The Special Activities Commission would like to extend its sincerest appreciation to all lodges that have complied with the guidelines of the committee. The Commission also wishes to express its deepest appreciation to Grand Master Graham W. Pervier for his support during this calendar year and to Grand Secretary Walt Clapp for his valuable assistance to the committee. The committee will continue to strive in replying promptly to all lodges requesting permission and information for a fundraising project.

Respectfully submitted,
J. Luigi Ammons, Chairman

Report of Special Committee on the Masonic Burial Service

The following Report of the Special Committee on the Masonic Burial Service was received and entered on the record.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

Grand Master Graham W. Pervier created this special committee with the charge to review the Masonic burial services as they appear in the Masonic Ceremonies book and the Bahnson Manual. A second charge was given to review Chapter 82 of The Code, which is devoted to burials and to seek ways to raise the profile of Freemasonry.

The committee has met quarterly and, for the most part, concentrated on procedural changes necessitated by recent amendments to The Code. We are also looking at ways to improve our public image, especially with the clergy. It is felt that the profile of Freemasonry could be raised if more memorial services were held in church sanctuaries, or funeral home chapels, instead of at the grave site, especially during inclement weather. Far too many of the non-Masons who attend the religious service do not go to the burial site, even in good weather, thus, they never witness a Masonic burial service.

It is the consensus of the Committee that changes made in the burial ceremony would be minimal.

The grand master recognized both geography and ethnicity in appointing a committee representative of the state of North Carolina. He also recognized that the work of this committee might well extend into another Grand Lodge year. To that end, he sought and received assurance from his likely successor in office that the work of the committee would go forward, next year, with his blessing. With that assurance, the committee will continue their work into next year.

Accordingly, this report is submitted as an interim, not a final report.

Grand Master Leonard Y. Safrit Jr. Final Report

Past Grand Master Leonard Y. Safrit Jr. presented his final report. His complete and final report appears in the 2004 Proceedings.

Tribute to Grand Master Safrit

Leonard Yearby Safrit Jr. will tell you proudly that his family business has survived over several generations by honestly telling their customers what they can expect, and delivering what they promise. They have also adapted to change and the needs of the communities they serve. Grand Master Safrit has brought those same straightforward principles and promises to the Masons of North Carolina.

A neat lumber yard is one of the marks of the Safrit businesses. It tells us of Grand Master Safrit's attention to detail and his belief in the image we project forming the opinion the world develops of us.

More importantly, he reminds us that attending to our image also affects how we feel about ourselves. A fraternity that strives to look its best to outsiders will find that it feels better about itself and, indeed, actually becomes a better group from its effort.

During their journey through the Grand Lodge line, Beaufort resident Safrit and Winston-Salemite Graham W. Pervier, who followed him through the chairs, often jokingly referred to themselves as the grand master of the east and grand master of the west. During his term as grand master, though, Safrit showed himself a champion of all Freemasonry, not a single region of the Tar Heel State.

Safrit served with integrity and courage, exploring possibilities and territory previously unknown. He stood on the frontier and urged us to join him on higher ground. We strive still to meet his challenge.

Report of the Auditor

The following report of Dixon Hughes PLLC, Certified Public Accountants, auditor, was received, entered on the record, and referred to the Committee on Finance.

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial position of the Grand Lodge of AF & AM of North Carolina (Grand Lodge) as of December 31, 2004, and the related statements of activities, changes in net assets, and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Grand Lodge's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Grand Lodge of AF & AM of North Carolina as of December 31, 2004, and the changes in net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Respectfully Submitted,
Dixon Hughes PLLC

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

It is an extraordinary honor to serve as grand master of this Grand Lodge. I thank you for trusting me with these responsibilities and for the hospitality and courtesy which have been extended to me as I have traveled around the Old North State.

Pursuant to the provisions of The Code, I am pleased to submit this report of my acts as grand master and the general condition of Masonry within this jurisdiction.

The Condition of Masonry

Above all else, I have tried to communicate to the craft that Masonry in North Carolina is healthy, energetic, and on the rise. I have done so in my district meetings, in The North Carolina Mason, and on any other occasion that afforded itself. As evidence of this optimistic outlook I have cited: our membership trends, the activity in our lodges, and our long and proud history.

We will continue to experience a net decline in total membership for a few more years. That is because we are losing so many of the men who joined the fraternity in large numbers in the years right after World War II.

However, we should focus on the number of new Masons that we raise each year, not on our losses. Except for those men of the Greatest Generation, our underlying membership trends are healthy. The amount of degree work in our lodges these days is exciting. We just need to continue to let good men know what we are about. We need to stay in touch with all of our members. Keep them involved with the life and work of our lodges, so that we have fewer NPDs. We also need to be sure that we raise all of the men that we initiate.

Our lodges are active and energetic. For every lodge that may be struggling a little with membership or finances, there are three or four lodges that are doing very well. They have degree work regularly. They have projects in their communities, and they support our Masonic charities. They work with other lodges in their district. They involve their families in many lodge activities. They do things together just for fun and fellowship. Many lodges have been kind enough to put me on their lodge mailing list this year. These lodge newsletters bring me good news about Masonry in North Carolina every day.

Finally, our proud history reminds us that we have been around for a long time. We have survived ups and downs in membership. We have endured attacks by misguided politicians and preachers. Each lodge anniversary event that I have attended reminds me of how durable we are. Each service award that I have presented is a reaffirmation of how important Freemasonry is to its members. We have no fatal flaw, nor do we need to worry about whether or not we are "relevant." Friendship, morality, and brotherly love will always be important to men of faith and character.

Necrology

Since our last Annual Communication many of our beloved brothers have departed this life for that undiscovered country, from whose bourne no traveler returns. The Committee on Necrology will conduct a memorial service during this Annual Communication in memory of these departed Brothers.

DDGM/DDGL Meetings

Last November, we met with the district deputy grand masters and the district deputy grand lecturers to discuss our plans for 2005. These meetings were held at five different locations. Grand Secretary Walt Clapp and Grand Lecturer Bob Street joined me for these meetings. I talked about the positive message that I hoped to deliver in 2005, and I received several helpful suggestions and ideas. We also discussed Prince Hall recognition. I asked the DDGMs to be diligent about their official visits and particularly asked them to identify any lodges that might need help with budgeting and financial reporting.

Please take the time to thank your DDGM and your DDGL. These are not ceremonial positions. They are hardworking jobs, and these men are the glue that holds our Grand Lodge together on a statewide basis. They are often required to deal with difficult and controversial situations in the lodges. The orderly work of our Fraternity absolutely depends on them. We are fortunate that these men are willing to undertake the considerable responsibilities of these offices.

District Meetings

We held twenty-five District Meetings across the state this year. Attendance was excellent, and I thank the officers of the lodges, the DDGMs, DDGLs, Grand Lodge officers, past grand masters, members of our various boards and committees, and all the other Masons who attended these meetings.

At these meetings I discussed: (1) membership; (2) Prince Hall recognition, and (3) my optimistic views about the current state of the Fraternity. John Rose gave a brief report about the Masonic and Eastern Home. Doug McConnell or Allen Hughes or Chris Richardson was present to report on the Masonic Home for Children. Grand Lecturer Bob Street attended to encourage the lodge officers to maintain proficiency in our ritual work.

Thanks again to the lodges who hosted these District Meetings. I know that a lot of work goes into being the host lodge.

All spring I watched the host lodge officers scramble to prepare to receive the grand master. On May 16, the shoe was suddenly on the other foot. The Grand York Rite officers were making their official visit to Winston-Salem. Since I was in the East as illustrious master of Zabud Council, it was my turn to scramble to receive Masonic dignitaries.

Physical Disabilities

To date, I have approved two waivers of physical disabilities for a number of petitioners for the degrees in Masonry. In each case, the district deputy grand master of the district in which the petition was received made a personal investigation of the petitioner and reported to me. I wish to commend each of them for the prompt and efficient manner in which they handled these investigations.

Dispensations Granted

At the time this report was being prepared, I had granted 20 dispensations. These dispensation had been granted to accomplish the following purposes:

Fifteen dispensations were granted to elect officer and fill lodge offices vacated due to death, resignation, or failure to elect in December.

Five dispensations were granted to permit lodges to hold meetings other than at the regular meeting place.

Masonic and Eastern Star Home

I commend for your information the Reports of the Administrator of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home, the Report of the Board of Directors of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home, Inc., and the Report of the Committee on the Masonic and Eastern Star Home.

If you have not had the opportunity to visit the Masonic and Eastern Star Home, please try to do so. You will have an appreciation for what we do there that you just can't get any other way. We are not running an institution. We are providing a home for our residents. It is a special place.

MESH is the most charitable retirement community in North Carolina. The care of about 150 of our 250 residents is subsidized in whole or in part. This has caused a financial squeeze that the Board of Directors is carefully addressing. Plans are underway to replace the older buildings and to add additional units. Additional income, from new residents who are able to pay for their care, will help us to provide for those who need help.

We need to step up on our fraternal support for the Masonic and Eastern Star Home. Many of our lodges have very effective fundraisers for our Homes. And many individual Masons are quite generous as well. But on a per capita basis, our support for our Homes is, quite frankly, pathetic. I don't mean to fuss at our membership. We need to get the word out about what is needed, and why, and I know the Masons will respond.

Masonic Home for Children at Oxford

I commend for your information the Report of the Administrator of the Masonic Home for Children at Oxford and the Report of the Committee on the Masonic Home for Children at Oxford. These reports will provide information about the new board structure, the strategic plan, licensure, accreditation, and plans for the older buildings.

From time to time, members ask why the number of children at Oxford is so much lower than in the past. In fact, this is a trend with similar homes for children nationwide. All of the emphasis in our local social services systems in on keeping kids at home, if possible, or in the community as an alternative. Food stamps, Medicaid, and housing assistance help single moms who might otherwise have to give up custody of their kids. Other children are placed with relatives or in foster care, both with social services financial assistance. Fewer children need short or long-term residential placements.

But, make no mistake. There are still children who need us, and those that do need us need us more than ever. Also, many experts believe that there will be a reversal of the trend and that more residential placements will be needed in the near future. This is because too many children are placed with relatives or in foster care situations that are not helpful or appropriate.

Please visit our Home for Children if you have never done so, or if you haven't been there recently — you will be overcome with pride.

VA Hospitals

I have been honored to visit the VA Hospitals in Asheville, Durham, and Salisbury during my term. I expect to visit the hospital in Fayetteville later this year. Our Masonic Service Association volunteers do a wonderful job of serving the veterans at these hospitals. They give thousands of hours of service and often visit veterans who might otherwise have no visitors. Please thank them. I was happy to visit Asheville a second time to present Inza Lance a certificate from the Masonic Service Association recognizing her ten years as the MSA representative there.

Conference of the Grand Masters in North America

The Conference of Grand Masters in North America was held in Calgary, Canada in February of this year. As you know, Freemasonry has no governing structure above the state or provincial level. This conference provides an important opportunity for Masonic leaders to meet and share ideas about the problems and opportunities facing Masonry in our several grand jurisdictions. The informal conversations with other Masonic leaders are often as helpful as the Conference sessions.

I was privileged to serve on the Conference Planning Committee and so I traveled to Calgary in both summer (June 2004) and winter (February 2005). For this North Carolinian, summer was nicer by far.

Southeastern Masonic Conference

The Southeastern Masonic Conference was held in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, August 4–5, 2005. The members of the Southeastern Conference are North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, and Arkansas. Like the North America Conference, this is an opportunity for Masonic leaders to meet and share ideas and we have much in common with these southeastern grand jurisdictions. I gave a presentation titled “We Are Stronger Than We Think” which was based on my remarks at our District Meetings earlier this year. At both the Southeastern and North America Conferences, I heard the same optimism about Freemasonry that we are feeling in North Carolina.

Visitations

I believe it is one of the grand master’s responsibilities to keep the Grand Lodge in communication with the rest of the Masonic family. This is accomplished in part by visiting with our appendant bodies and other grand jurisdictions.

I attended the Oasis Orientation Session in January where Potentate Rolla Rogers presented my me with my grand master’s fez. Karen and I attended the Shrine Bowl football game in Spartanburg last December. The Shrine temples were wonderful hosts and Jack Marler, then the grand master of South Carolina, helped to look after me. This July we attended the Imperial Shrine Session in Baltimore. Oasis, Amran, and Sudan were most gracious hosts. Forty-one US and Canadian grand masters attended Imperial this year.

We attended the Grand York Rite Session in Clemmons in March and the York Rite Summer Assembly in Maggie Valley in July. The grand master of North Carolina traditionally gives the keynote address at Summer Assembly, and I enjoyed doing that. The Masonic family fellowship at Summer Assembly is very special.

I expect to attend the Biennial Session of the Scottish Rite in Washington, DC, in October 2005.

I attended the Grand Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star in June, the Order of Rainbow for Girls, also in June, and the White Shrine of Jerusalem in May.

Karen and I enjoyed the annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Ontario in July. The hospitality and the pageantry were very special. We were sorry to miss the annual communication in South Carolina. We were en route to Charleston, when a family emergency called us home.

Thanks to the Sojourners in both Jacksonville and Fayetteville for having us at meetings this year. I am proud to have been made an honorary member of both of these chapters.

In December, a week after my own installation, I attended the installation of the officers of the Prince Hall Grand Lodge and Grand Chapter. Past Grand Master Bill Mathis also attended. We were treated with extraordinary courtesy, and the ceremonies were most impressive. My thanks are extended to Grand Master Fitch.

Anniversaries and Special Events

St. John's Lodge No. 1 has done a wonderful job of observing their 250th Anniversary with a series of events this year. I joined them in Wilmington last December to dedicate a historic marker and to install their 2005 officers. We were back in June for an Anniversary Gala. Robert Morrow, grand secretary of the United Grand Lodge of England, was the guest speaker. We presented Brother Morrow with honorary membership in our Grand Lodge. I'm looking forward to a special Past Masters' Night at St. John's in October.

I enjoyed other anniversaries this year with Liberty 34 (200th), Blackmer 170 (150th), Spencer 543 (100th), and Esther Chapter 19 OES (100th).

On April 14, we had a special ceremony at Riverside Cemetery in Asheville. A Masonic Burial Service was performed for Zebulon Baird Vance (1830–1897). Vance was a United States Congressman, the Civil War Governor of North Carolina, and United States Senator. For reasons not entirely clear, Vance was buried without Masonic honors, although he had been an active Masonic leader. I gave remarks and PGM B. T. Phillips performed the ceremony. Thanks to Brother Walter Klein, author of a recent book about Vance, who suggested and planned the ceremony.

It was my pleasure to institute Orphan's Lodge U.D. in May. This special lodge will be dedicated to the support of the Masonic Home for Children at Oxford. An enthusiastic group of Masons have joined this new lodge, which hopes to receive its charter at this Annual Communication.

On May 1, I attended the graduation ceremonies for this year's Wilkerson College class. What a great resource Wilkerson College has become for this Grand Lodge. Graduates of this program are now in positions of leadership in lodges all over this jurisdiction. Please recommend Wilkerson College to up and coming leaders in your lodge.

Our annual joint legislative reception on June 21 was a great success this year. A number of legislators came by to meet and greet with our officers and the Prince Hall officers.

On the afternoon of St. John's Day, I joined representatives and friends of Creasy Proctor 679 to rededicate the Creasy Proctor Gymnasium on the Children's Home campus.

I have visited many lodges for special degree work, for service awards, Ladies' Nights, Past Master's Nights and other events.

Recommended Legislation

I have no recommendations for specific legislation. I do, however, offer the following general recommendations:

1. We need to develop a coordinated, long-range plan for the financial support of MESH and MHCO, including both annual fundraising and planned giving.
2. We must give careful attention to the plans for expansion of MESH and the short-term financial situation at MESH.
3. While I believe that membership development still depends on personal one-on-one relationships, we should monitor the results of "one-day classes” and alternative proficiencies in other jurisdictions. We may learn something helpful.

4. Prince Hall recognition is important. Since we did not do this at this Annual Communication, we should try to see what information the craft needs to be comfortable about recognition and get it to them.
5. We need to be more active and consistent with support for our youth organizations.

Acknowledgments and Thanks

Thank you:

To the district deputy grand masters and the district deputy grand lecturers: I haven’t seen most of you as often as I would have liked this year, but I have felt your support and I am most grateful. You are where the rubber meets the road in the workings of our Grand Lodge.

To the past grand masters: For your advice and counsel, for the example of your leadership, and for your continuing interest in the success of our Fraternity.

To the Grand Lodge officers: For the effective conduct of your several responsibilities and for your personal friendship and support.

To the officers of the subordinate lodges: For sharing the responsibilities of leadership this year. Your success is our success. This Grand Lodge works best from the local lodge up, not from the grand master down.

To the members of our boards and committees: For the remarkable amount of time and talent you have contributed to the fraternity in all our undertakings.

To the Highway Patrol Degree Team: I saw you in action the evening before I wrote this, and I want to thank you for being such a special part of the life of our Grand Lodge.

To Walt Clapp, Ric Carter, Cornelia Doherty, Paula Strother, and Frankie Harles: Our Grand Lodge office is operated with professionalism and efficiency. These men and women have a personal commitment to seeing that our organization functions as we need it to. Best of all they are good and caring friends.

To Ron Page: for handling the arrangements for this Annual Communication. The success of our Grand Lodge sessions are the result of your countless hours of work and your attention to detail.

To my Brothers in Forsyth 707: For electing me to receive the degrees and for encouraging and supporting me ever since. Special thanks to Joe Manning and Hoagy Carmichael for traveling with me this year.

To the Forsyth County Board of Commissioners and my colleagues in Forsyth government who have supported me at the office while I was often off on Masonic business.

And in honor of Karen and our children and grandchildren.

Addendum

October and November 2005 were very busy months for me. There was certainly no opportunity to “coast” from the Annual Communication to the end of my term!

On September 30, 2006, I was graciously received at the public session of the Prince Hall Grand Lodge held in Winston-Salem. I thank Grand Master Fitch for this courtesy. The Prince Hall leaders were disappointed that our Grand Lodge had not approved the resolution providing for mutual recognition. However, they are good Masons and patient men, and they believe that mutual recognition will be concluded in due time. So do I.

I attended the Scottish Rite Biennial Session October 2–5, 2006 in Washington, DC. It was an impressive assembly of Masonic leadership. Deputy Grand Master Gene Jernigan and I were honored to be among the class receiving the 33rd degree there in Washington. If you have never visited the House of the Temple, put this magnificent building on your “must see” list.

The new Cobb Center at the Masonic Home for Children was dedicated in ceremonies October 7–8. The generosity of the Cobb family has provided for the restoration of the Dunn cottage (the “baby cottage”) as a wonderful multi-purpose facility for the Home.

On November, 12 we had a gala dinner celebrating the 95th Anniversary of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home. Former Governor and Brother James G. Martin was our master of ceremonies. A wonderful time was had by all.

I love our ceremony for the consecration of a new lodge building. It was a privilege to be a part of the dedication of the new building for James K. Polk Lodge No. 759 in Pineville on October 8. Grand Secretary Walt Clapp and I were driven up to the front door in a vintage Rolls Royce!

Fall is the time for lodge awards nights. I attended awards nights at Forest City Lodge No. 381, Guilford Lodge No. 656, East Gate Lodge No. 692, and Mt. Hermon Lodge No. 118. I thank Mt. Hermon Lodge for making me an Honorary Member. I went down to Lebanon Lodge No. 207 in Whiteville to present the 50-year emblem to my special friend, Roy Lowe.

Past Masters’ Night for St. John’s 1 on October 15 was an elegant conclusion to the observance of their 250th Anniversary year.

I had promised to try to visit several lodges in particular during my year as grand master. During the period covered by this report, I was pleased to make drop-in visits to Statesville Lodge No. 27, Enterprise Lodge No. 752, Semper Fidelis Lodge No. 680, King Lodge No. 722, and Round Peak Lodge No. 616. I wish my schedule had allowed me to visit every lodge in this grand jurisdiction!

I had visited the VA hospitals in Asheville, Durham and Salisbury earlier in my term, and I went to the Fayetteville facility on November 22. The work that our MSA representatives do at these hospitals is very special and they are as quick to assist a non-Mason as they are to help a Brother.

I was pleased to confer the Joseph Monfort medal on Brothers Charles Lewis, PGM; Joseph Vale; and Alvin Hardy.

I am a native of Virginia, and so it was a special treat to attend the Grand Lodge of Virginia’s Annual Communication, November 6—8, in Richmond, VA. The hospitality was very generous and the work and the ceremonies were impressive.

Oasis, Sudan, and Amran were welcoming and helpful to me all year. In the fall, I attended the Oasis Ceremonial in Hickory, and also the inaugural Oasis North-South All Star Football Game in Charlotte. This game features players from the independent schools in North and South Carolina.

Throughout 2005, I tried to communicate to you my very genuine belief that our Grand Lodge is healthy and energetic — perhaps more healthy and energetic than we realize. The number of new petitions is on the rise. Some lodges have had amazing membership gains. Lodges all across the State are on fire with activity, local projects and support of our charities. Our net decline in membership will soon end. This decline was never due to declining interest in the Fraternity, but only to the loss of those men who joined in such huge numbers in the years after World War II. I remain certain that these early years of the 21st century will be remembered as a period of extraordinary Masonic renewal.

Karen and I thank you for your courtesies and hospitality throughout the year. Words cannot communicate what a privilege it was to serve as grand master. God bless each of you and our Grand Lodge.

Respectfully submitted,
Graham W. Pervier
Grand Master

Report of the Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence

The following report of the Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence was presented. The Committee made a recommendation on each topic of discussion. Each topic was dealt with individually, and then the entire report was adopted as a whole. The dispensation of each is listed following the details.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

The following are the various orders that were issued during the terms of Grand Master Leonard Y. Safrit Jr. and Grand Master Graham W. Pervier, to be considered during this Annual Communication.

Grand Master Safrit's Orders

Safrit Orders 1–3 were considered at the 2004 Annual Communication and are recorded in the 2004 Proceedings.

Safrit Order No. 4

WHEREAS, on October 16, 2003, Past Grand Master Charles A. Lewis Jr. entered an Order (Lewis Order) arresting the charter of Revolution Lodge No. 552 AF & AM (Revolution Lodge); and,

WHEREAS, the Lewis Order was ratified, confirmed, and accepted by the delegates in attendance at the Annual Communication of the Grand Lodge of North Carolina on September 24, 2004, thereby ratifying and confirming the requirements and directives contained in the Lewis Order; and,

WHEREAS, the Lewis Order provided that at such point in time that the former members of Revolution Lodge take such steps as are necessary to come into full and complete compliance with the Lewis Order, they may request of the Most Worshipful Grand Master that he restore the charter; and,

WHEREAS, General Greene Lodge UD was created to alleviate the hardships created for innocent members of Revolution Lodge No. 552 by the revocation of its charter; and,

WHEREAS, I find that such steps to come into full compliance with the Lewis Order have been taken, and that all matters in the controversy have been resolved to my full and complete satisfaction; and,

WHEREAS, General Greene Lodge UD voted unanimously to return to Revolution Lodge No. 552 and have made formal request to the Grand Master to that effect; and,

WHEREAS, I hereby deem it to be in the best interest of Masonry in North Carolina to make the following Order:

Order

NOW; THEREFORE, I hereby order, adjudge, and decree as follows:

1. The charter of Revolution Masonic Lodge No. 552 AF & AM is hereby restored, effective immediately.
2. That, effective immediately, the officers of Revolution Lodge are as follows:

Master — Lewis Daniel Tysor
 Senior Warden — Robert L. Warren Jr.
 Junior Warden — Henson Canady
 Treasurer — George Thomas Hyatt
 Secretary — Joel Ritter
 Senior Deacon — David Moon
 Junior Deacon — Warren Ritter
 Senior Steward — Wayne Coffey
 Chaplain — Mack Cooke
 Tyler — Donald Charters

3. That, effective immediately, the Dispensation of General Greene Lodge is hereby revoked.
4. That all candidates, members, and assets of General Greene UD are hereby transferred to Revolution Lodge No. 552.

Given under my hand and seal this the 17th day of November, 2004.

The Committee recommended that the order be approved.

The delegates approved the order.

Safrit Order No. 5

It has been brought to my attention by the grand secretary that Palmyra Lodge No. 147, AF & AM balloted on an application for restoration after suspension for NPD. The acting master declared the petitioner rejected without complying with Regulation 68-3 of The Code.

In such cases, the grand master may authorize a re-ballot at a stated communication. Therefore, the grand master, by positive and unquestionable evidence, determines the ballot was clearly and grossly illegal and is empowered to order another ballot in cases of this kind. I hereby ORDER Palmyra Lodge No. 147 to re-ballot on the above mentioned petition for the degrees at the stated communication to be held on January 4, 2005.

The dispensation authorizing the re-ballot shall contain a proviso that all members of the lodge shall be given not less than ten days notice of the re-ballot by first-class mail under sealed cover and the time and place thereof.

This order shall be read to the lodge at the stated communication to be held on December 7, 2004, entered in the minutes of that communication and a proper notation made on the margin of the minutes for the stated communication on November 2, 2004, referring to this order and the date it was recorded in the minutes.

Given under my hand and seal at Beaufort, North Carolina, this 30th November, 2004 CE; 6004 AL.

The Committee recommended that the order be approved.

The delegates approved the order.

Grand Master Pervier Orders Pervier Order No. 1

The grand secretary has informed me that Beaver Dam Lodge No. 276 was in the process of voting on an application for affiliation for Brother TFK. While in the process of complying with 68-3.13 of The Code, it was brought to the worshipful master's attention that one of the members had left the lodge room. The master promptly destroyed the ballot without stating any findings. He further stated that the lodge would conduct another ballot at a subsequent communication.

In such cases, the grand master may authorize a re-ballot at a stated communication. Therefor, the grand master, by positive and unquestionable evidence, determines the ballot was clearly and grossly illegal and is empowered to order another ballot in cases of this kind. I hereby ORDER Beaver Dam Lodge No. 276 to re-ballot on the above mentioned application for affiliation at the stated communication to be held on June 14, 2005.

Given under my hand and seal at Winston-Salem, North Carolina, this 24th day of May, 2005 CE; 6005 AL.

The Committee recommended that the order be approved.

The delegates approved the order.

Pervier Order No. 2

The grand secretary has forwarded to me the file on Mr. JDD, petitioner in your lodge. From the information supplied, Mr. JDD was elected to receive the degrees in your lodge on November 23, 2004. Prior to his initiation, a member of the lodge objected to the degree. The objector did not state the reason for his objection. An additional investigation was called for, and a re-ballot was scheduled. At the stated meeting held on December 28, 2004, no additional information was made available. A ballot was conducted, and the petitioner was rejected.

Regulation 68-3.20 provides that "After the Master declares the result of a secret ballot, no further balloting on that particular petition... shall take place..." Former Regulation 73-3, which provided for objection to initiation, was repealed effective January 1, 2002. Objection to initiation can now only be sustained for a reason that would disqualify a petitioner.

Regulation 71-5 provides that if a petitioner elected to the degrees becomes disqualified before initiation, he shall not be initiated. Such a disqualification might arise if the petitioner were found to have made false statements on his petition, or was found by good evidence to be guilty of an offense which would be a serious Masonic offense were he a Mason. The Master clearly handled the objection prudently in this case in ordering another investigation, and apparently found no basis for such a disqualification.

The ballot conducted on December 28, 2004 is, therefore, NULL and VOID. It is my ORDER that the ballot conducted on November 23, 2004 was correct and the petitioner JDD is hereby elected.

Given under my hand and seal at Winston-Salem, North Carolina, this 31st day of January, 2005.

The Committee recommended that the order be approved.

The delegates approved the order.

Pervier Order No. 3

Based upon information concerning the character of Mr. SAV which has been reported to me by the master of Ocean Lodge No. 405, it is my order that this candidate is disqualified under the law of the Grand Lodge and he may not be initiated. The master may cancel the emergent communication called for May 17, 2005

Given under my hand and seal at Winston-Salem, NC this the 13th day of May.

The Committee recommended that the order be approved.

The delegates approved the order.

Pervier Order No. 4

It has been brought to my attention by the grand secretary's office that Linville Lodge No. 489 elected SDH for affiliation on August 11, 2005 without waiting 28 days between receiving the application and balloting.

The ballot taken on August 11, 2005 is clearly illegal under the positive language of Regulation 75-11.1B of The Code, and is, therefore, NULL and VOID.

Since the grand master is empowered to order another ballot in cases of this kind, I hereby order Linville Lodge No. 489 to re-ballot on the application for affiliation for SDH at the stated communication to be held on September 8, 2005.

This order shall be read to the lodge at the next stated communication, entered on the minutes of that communication, and a proper notation made on the margin of the minutes for August 11, 2005, referring to this Order and the date it was recorded in the minutes.

Given under my hand and seal at Winston-Salem, North Carolina, this 19th day of August, 2005.

The Committee recommended that the order be approved.

The delegates approved the order.

This nomination statement shall contain a brief listing of the candidate's Masonic history and any pertinent background information which illustrates his qualification for the position for which he is nominated. This will be published in the NC Mason and other educational documents that are presented to the lodges during the year preceding the Annual Communication at which the vote will be held. At the Annual Communication, the nomination forms for all candidates for any office will be read immediately prior to balloting for that office.

Should a vacancy occur in the office of Grand Secretary or Grand Treasurer during the year after the Annual Communication of the Grand Lodge, for example one dies or resigns, he will be replaced in accordance with Reg. 11-11. As soon as the vacancy is known, Nominations may be received for 90 days following the announcement of the vacancy via letter from the office of Grand Secretary to the lodges. If the vacancy occurs within less than one month from the next Annual Communication, properly executed nomination forms may be received up until noon of the first day of the annual communication.
